

California State University, Northridge &
The Global Ethics and Religion Forum present

War and Reconciliation: Perspectives of the World Religions

California State University, Northridge
April 3, 2003

Thousand Oaks Room, University Student Union

9:30 ~ Introduction to Conference

Phyllis Herman, California State University, Northridge

9:40 – 10:45

“Teaching the Israeli-Palestinian Conflict”

Jody Myers and Mehran Kamrava

California State University, Northridge

Chair: Amir Hussain, California State University, Northridge

11:00 – 12:30

Panel: Can There be Just Wars?

Joseph Runzo, Chapman University

Philip Rossi, S.J., Marquette University

Nathan Tierney, California Lutheran University

Chair: James Kellenberger, California State University, Northridge

12:30 ~ Lunch Break

2:00 – 3:15

Panel: Indigenous Traditions of Peacemaking

Daniel Smith-Christopher, Loyola Marymount University

Tanara Tamihare (Maori), New Zealand

Chair: Lara Medina, California State University, Northridge

3:30 – 5:00

Reconciliation and Regional Conflicts

“War Refugees: Disposable People?”

Judith Mayotte, Marquette University

“Reconciliation Across Cultural Divides”

Paula Garb, University of California, Irvine

“Reflections on Afghanistan”

Mohammad Qayoumi, Vice President of Administration and Finance,
California State University, Northridge

Chair: Phyllis Herman, California State University, Northridge

*Sponsored by the California State University, Northridge, College of Humanities; Phi Beta Delta; Department of Religious Studies; Graduate Studies, Research and International Programs; CFA; and Center for Ethics and Values.
Events are free and open to the public.*

For further information, please contact Dr. Phyllis Herman, Department of Religious Studies (818-677-3925)